The Berlin Taijiquan school is headed by Johannes Mergner. Acknowledged representative of Yang-Family the school is called YANG CHENGFU TAI CHI CHUAN CENTER GERMANY. Another YCF-Center is located in Cologne. The Berlin Center received its official certificate in October 2005 by INTERNATIONAL YANG FAMILY TAI CHI CHUAN ASSOCIATION founded by Yang Zhenduo and Yang Jun

Traditional Yang Family Taijiquan

The Yang school of Tai Chi Chuan (Taijiquan) was originally founded by Yang Luchan. His famous grandson Yang Chengfu developed the style, the movements became slower, bigger and more open. Characteristics are the steady flow, the harmonized connection between body and mind and a strong internal energy. Yang Chengfu said, Taijiquan is an art, in which the slow and soft movements contain a strong internal force like a needle concealed in cotton. Traditional Yang Style – strongly influenced by Yang Chengfu – is composed of Hand-, Sword-, Saber-, Longstaff and Partner-Forms. It is still practiced and taught by the Yangfamily.

Yang Jun

Lineage holder of 5th generation of Yang-Family

Born in 1968 in Taiyuan and grandson of Grandmaster Yang Zhenduo Yang Jun is the 6th generation descendant of the creator of Yang Style Taijiquan. Since July 2009 he is nominated a Grandmaster and lineage holder of the 5th Yangfamily Taijiquan generation. Like his grandfather he practices Taijiquan according to the movements and postures of Yang Chengfu.

Since 1982 he used to travel with his grandfather whenever Yang Zhenduo has been teaching abroad. Today Yang Jun is conducting these seminars worldwide on his own initiative. He is the President of the INTERNATIONAL YANG FAMILY (former: YANG STYLE) TAI CHI CHUAN ASSOCIATION which was created by him and his grandfather in 1998. Together with his wife Fang Hong he moved to Seattle, Washington in 1999. Yang Jun represents the first member of the Yang family to live outside China.

His skill is unquestioned. His forms seamlessly combine softness with hardness, precision with deep understanding, and restraint with expression.

During the seminars in Germany Master Yang Jun will teach in English. The theoretical introduction and demonstration of the energies as well as complex background informations will be translated.
